Fern fascination™

Ferns from Fern Fascination are attractive, popular green foliage plants. They add character and will enhance many areas of your home and office, indoor and out. Our Ferns can be planted in your garden to create a beautiful accent. Ferns from Fern Fascination also make wonderful porch pots, and can be used inside your home as natural décor.

Fern Fascination Indoors!

Ferns from Fern Fascination enjoy a warm area with indirect sunlight. It's important not to place them in direct sunlight, this will cause the leaves to burn. Our Ferns also prefer higher humidity, especially in the colder months. A gentle misting once and awhile will give them the humidity they need. You can even water them in the shower if you see them wilting or losing their leaves.

Fern Fascination Outdoors!

Once the temperature is above freezing, and there is no warning of frost at night, our Ferns can be placed outside. Some great areas to place them are on the front porch, in a patio pot, in the garden, or in a window box. Avoid placing them in direct sunlight or extremely windy areas.

Ferns from Fern Fascination enjoy a warm area with indirect sunlight; they also flourish in shady areas. Keep them well watered, don't let them dry out, otherwise they may become wilted and their leaves may drop.
